

ALDERMEN MAKE NEW ATTACK ON WALDO

Bar Association Begins Inquiry Into Cohalan Scandal

FINAL EDITION.

The World.

FINAL EDITION.

PRICE ONE CENT.

Copyright, 1913, by The Evening World, Inc. (The New York World).

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 4, 1913.

20 PAGES

PRICE ONE CENT.

MILITANT GRABS KING'S HORSE RUNNING IN THE DERBY RACE; IS TRAMPLED UNDER HOOF

She Springs on to Track, Clutches Reins and Is Badly Maimed.

JOCKEY, ALSO INJURED.

Woman's Attempt Made to Prevent Anmer, Entry of George V., From Winning.

EPSON, June 4.—The most dramatic Derby ever run on the historic course at Epsom Downs was accompanied to-day by a suffragette outrage of the most startling character. While excitement was at a high pitch a woman militant rushed at and was trampled under hoof by the King's horse, Anmer, as he was running at his topmost speed, in the presence of King George and Queen Mary, in the chief event of British sport.

Thousands of persons, including many American visitors, were gathered in the vicinity of Tattenham Corner, watching the horses taking the critical turn into the straight for home, when the woman dashed forward and seized the reins of the King's horse.

She saw the horse stumble, trample the woman so terribly that she was unrecognizable and then fall with the jockey, Jones, who, unable to free himself, was seriously injured.

The aim of the suffragette was to prevent King George's horse from winning the Derby, and if Anmer had any chance, it was certainly shattered and the woman's purpose fulfilled, although her attempt may result in her death.

As the other horses in the race disappeared in a cloud of dust around the course a crowd ran on to the track and the woman was carried outside the rail and found to be badly maimed. She lies in the local hospital in a state of unconsciousness. She suffered grave injuries to her head.

Her name is given as E. Davidson and she is thought to be Miss Emily Wilding Davidson, a member of the Women's Social and Political Union, who since 1908 has been sentenced on eight different occasions to imprisonment for participation in suffragette outrages. Emily Davidson was the woman who assaulted a Baptist minister at Aberdeen station, mistaking him for David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer. Whenever she has been imprisoned she has started a "hunger strike" and has generally been released. She has been found hidden in the House of Commons three times and elected.

LONDON, June 4.—Damage estimated at $5,000 was done during the night by a militant suffragette "arson squad," who set fire to a newly constructed but unoccupied mansion at Westwood, near Trowbridge, Wiltshire. The women left behind them a placard bearing the words "For damages apply to Runciman."

The officials of the Women's Social and Political Union, the militant suffragette organization, disclaim any knowledge of the Epsom outrage or of the culprit whose name is reported variously as E. Davidson, Elizabeth Davidson and Emily Wilding Davidson.

LATHERED BY MANICURE. Girl Jumps In to Help Boss Barber tripped by Strikers.

Because of his refusal to heed the call of the I. W. W. in his victory over most boss barbers in Jersey City, George Marino, who has a shop in the Union Trust Company Building, found himself alone with the chairs to-day.

He got far behind with his work until Miss May Hurley, the manicure girl, came to the rescue by announcing that she would wield the latter brush and do the face rubbing if he would devote himself to the scrubbing.

Among customers who made no objection to the arrangement were Vice-Chancellors Vernon M. Lewis and John Griffin, whose court-rooms are in the building.

MRS. BISHOP GIVES UP 11-YEAR-OLD CHILD TO FATHER

Banker's Divorced Wife Saves Girl Ordeal of Choosing Between Parents.

GIRL TAKEN TO COURT.

Runs Into Daddy's Arms and Is Taken Away With Justice Goff's Consent.

New York Telegrapher Had Craganour, First at the Wire and Disqualified.

RACE GIVEN TO SECOND.

Just Twenty Minutes Between Cables to Tell Robinson How Fortune Vanished.

What would you do if you were working at the grind of a telegraph key for eighteen years and have it come to you in a flash over the wire that you had just won $15,000?

How would you feel after jubilation over your great luck for twenty minutes to get another flash to the effect that it was only a dream?

That is just the experience which befell Herbert W. Robinson, an operator in the employ of the Commercial Cable Company, to-day. When it was announced that the winner of the English Derby was Craganour, it meant that Mr. Robinson had won $15,000. He himself received the cable message.

It has been the custom for many years for the Eastern telegraph operators and others connected with the service to get up a pool, which has its start on the other side. The pool is called the Eastern Telegraph Stakes. Each ticket costs five shillings, a dollar and a quarter. The buyer of the ticket draws his horse blindly. Mr. Robinson bought his ticket three months ago, and found that he had drawn Craganour.

In the pool were 30,000 tickets. It is said that when Craganour became a favorite in the betting some time ago, the operator was offered $5,000 for his chance and that he refused it.

The pool is so arranged that after the tickets are bought, the names of the horses for first, second and third prizes are shaken up in a box or hat, and the lucky ticket holder gets the prize. Forty per cent of the pool goes to the winner and a certain percentage of the prize goes to some charity.

Out of the rush of commercial messages this morning, handled by Operator Robinson, came the flash. Robinson's mates say that he never so much as batted an eye when he read it. He lit a fresh cigarette and went on with his routine work. He is a very quiet, orderly man, and long years of work has steadied his nerves and taught him not to be rattled by anything which may come over the wire.

Then came the news that Craganour, whose jockey was Johnny Reiff, the American rider, had been disqualified for interfering with Aboyer, and the race was given to the latter by the judges. They say that Robinson showed no the slightest emotion, no matter what he felt. Again he went on with his work. He declined to say anything about himself or his bet for publication.

Supt. A. F. Austin of the Commercial Cable Company was visibly annoyed. He said that it was against the rules of the pool to gamble in any form.

ABOYER DERBY WINNER; CRAGANOUR IN FIRST LOSER ON PROTEST.

EPSON, June 4.—A. P. Gulliff's Ab-year, with the betting 100 to 1 against him was awarded first place to-day in the Derby, the chief sporting event of the British turf after his jockey had

Banker Bishop, and Little Muriel Surrendered by Her Mother To-Day

James C. Bishop and daughter Muriel.

M'ADOO'S ARRIVAL IN WALL STREET IS SIGNAL FOR FLURRY

General Scramble to Unload—Secretary Denies He Is on Business.

The sudden appearance of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo in the Wall Street district to-day gave the financial section of the city the biggest thrill it has had since the memorable days of the 1907 panic.

In the neighborhood where the color of a man's necktie will start a flurry, the appearance of the head of the Government's money department started a torrent of rumors. All sorts of things were reported as being in the air.

At the same time European stocks were dumped into the New York market at a rate which threatened to demoralize the whole stock market. Led by the standard issues, following new low levels in the London markets, all the stocks went off from two to four points.

NOTHING MENACING IN HIS PRESENCE.

But there was nothing to the American end of the rumors. Secretary McAdoo was found by The Evening World. He said it was merely a coincidence that he had come to New York to-day on personal business.

He asserted positively there had been no bankers' conference in New York of which he was aware. He was more positive that he hadn't attended such a conference.

The decline of stocks under the foreign selling was checked after the London close. American interests flocked to the support of the market and there was a substantial rally expected to last over to-morrow.

But Wall street and environs had the busiest day it has had in several years. It was predicted the total stock sales would reach $100,000,000 to-day.

COHALAN INQUIRY TAKEN UP BY THE BAR ASSOCIATION

Grievance Committee Responds to the Demand of the Citizens' Union.

WORLD'S PROOF SHOWN

Affidavits and Other Documents Furnished by Connolly Turned Over to Investigators.

Late this afternoon the Grievance Committee of the Bar Association began its investigation into the charges brought against Justice Daniel Cohalan by John A. Connolly to the effect that Cohalan had capitalized his political power some years ago to secure city contracts for the Victor Heating Company, Connolly's concern, and had exacted 25 per cent of the net profit on all such contracts as his fee.

The action of the Grievance Committee followed as a direct result of the action taken by the Citizens' Union last night, whereby a request for an investigation of Justice Cohalan's conduct as a lawyer was requested of the Grievance Committee by that body.

All of the affidavits, business accounts and papers bearing upon the Connolly charges and in the possession of The World were turned over to-day to Eleanor Chrystie of the grievance committee.

The following letter from the Citizens' Union, signed by Julius Henry Cohen, was delivered to the committee:

"John A. Connolly has publicly charged, in substance, that Justice Daniel P. Cohalan of the Supreme Court, while practicing at the Bar, shared to the extent of fifty-five per cent in the profits of municipal contracts as a reward for using his political influence to secure these contracts for Mr. Connolly's corporation and also took a note in consideration for a promise to get Mr. Connolly a position in the public service.

"The matter, while important to the community as a whole, involves especially the standards of professional conduct befitting a lawyer and a Judge. Accordingly, we request that your body, through its appropriate committee, make a careful investigation into all the facts, with a view either of vindicating Justice Cohalan, if the facts warrant; or taking proceedings for his removal or disbarment, if it shall appear that either as a Judge or a lawyer he has been guilty of improper or unprofessional conduct. Respectfully yours, 'CITIZENS' UNION OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.'"

"JULIUS HENRY COHEN, 'Vice-Chairman.' "By order of the Executive Committee."

When Alderman Curran tried to get his committee together at 4 P. M. to-day, he could find only two of his followers: Folks and Hamilton, six members of the Committee were lost strayed or stolen.

The three Tammany members, Aldermen Dawling, Smith and Kenny had in the language of the Hall "beat it." They did so deliberately because as they said, they had not been furnished copies of the second section of the report.

"But where are the other fusionists?" asked Joe Ryan.

"Search me," said the bewildered Curran. "Guess I'll have to call it off for the day. Go home men," said he to Folks and Hamilton. And they sadly walked out.

"Wonder if Tammany is on the job?" asked Joe Ryan.

SAYS WALDO DIDN'T SUPPRESS GAMBLING EVIL.

The section published to-day asserted that while Commissioner Waldo had attempted to control the gambling situation his efforts had not been crowned with any degree of success. His methods of attacking the problem were held wholly to blame.

But insofar as the social evil was concerned, it was declared he had done nothing, except when it was necessary to maintain "outward order and decency" so desired by the Mayor, or when raids were compelled by continuous and persistent complaints of citizens or organizations against disorderly houses of long-standing reputation.

The committee reports that at the outset it was under the impression that with the aid of "Form 2," which was much discussed during the public hearings of the committee, the Police Commissioner had no difficulty in keeping track of every place in the city where pretexts of disorderly houses were being maintained.

But it was mistaken in this belief, it is said, after it was shown by the questioning of captains, inspectors and others that no two agreed as to what should go on "Form 2," and in the meanwhile the Commissioner was busy in his office in a polo game in California, but he has entirely recovered, and is playing better than ever.

CURRAN'S SECOND PART OF REPORT SAYS WALDO LET VICE RUN RIGHT ON

Declares That Mayor's Dictum for "Outward Order and Decency" Was Blindly Followed by Police Commissioner.

ALDERMEN FAIL TO SHOW AT COMMITTEE MEETING

Three Fusionists Turn Up This Afternoon—Three Missing With Three Tammanyites.

Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, said to-day in answer to the question "Is Tammany Hall going to renominate Mayor Gaynor?"

"I can't discuss that. I AM OUT OF POLITICS."

"Have you been informed that there is any increase in Gaynor sentiment?"

"I CAN'T DISCUSS THAT EITHER."

"Does Tammany regard that Mayor Gaynor should be renominated on his record?"

"I AM OUT OF POLITICS—OUT OF POLITICS," repeated the leader. "I can't talk about that at all."

He smiled, as he said it.

The eagerly expected second instalment of the Aldermanic Police Department Investigating Committee's indictment of Commissioner Waldo and Mayor Gaynor was made public late this afternoon.

It attacked with resounding thuds Mayor Gaynor's pet scheme of "preserving outward order and decency."

The report charged that Commissioner Waldo's method of handling gambling were ineffectual, and that he made no effort to enforce laws against the social evil.

And, it asserted, his position in the matter was with the complete approval of the Mayor, his superior.

When Alderman Curran tried to get his committee together at 4 P. M. to-day, he could find only two of his followers: Folks and Hamilton, six members of the Committee were lost strayed or stolen.

The three Tammany members, Aldermen Dawling, Smith and Kenny had in the language of the Hall "beat it." They did so deliberately because as they said, they had not been furnished copies of the second section of the report.

"But where are the other fusionists?" asked Joe Ryan.

"Search me," said the bewildered Curran. "Guess I'll have to call it off for the day. Go home men," said he to Folks and Hamilton. And they sadly walked out.

"Wonder if Tammany is on the job?" asked Joe Ryan.

SAYS WALDO DIDN'T SUPPRESS GAMBLING EVIL.

The section published to-day asserted that while Commissioner Waldo had attempted to control the gambling situation his efforts had not been crowned with any degree of success. His methods of attacking the problem were held wholly to blame.

But insofar as the social evil was concerned, it was declared he had done nothing, except when it was necessary to maintain "outward order and decency" so desired by the Mayor, or when raids were compelled by continuous and persistent complaints of citizens or organizations against disorderly houses of long-standing reputation.

The committee reports that at the outset it was under the impression that with the aid of "Form 2," which was much discussed during the public hearings of the committee, the Police Commissioner had no difficulty in keeping track of every place in the city where pretexts of disorderly houses were being maintained.

But it was mistaken in this belief, it is said, after it was shown by the questioning of captains, inspectors and others that no two agreed as to what should go on "Form 2," and in the meanwhile the Commissioner was busy in his office in a polo game in California, but he has entirely recovered, and is playing better than ever.

Baseball Games To-Day

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

AT ST. LOUIS.

GIANTS 1 0 0 0

ST. LOUIS 0 0 3 0

AT CINCINNATI.

BROOKLYN 0 0 0 3

CINCINNATI 3 0 0 1

AT PITTSBURGH.

PHILADELPHIA 0 0 0 0 0 0 4 0 0 4

PITTSBURGH 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

AT NEW YORK.

CLEVELAND 0 1 1 0 0

NEW YORK 0 0 0 0 2

AT BOSTON.

CHICAGO 2 1 0 0 0 0 0

BOSTON 0 0 1 0 0 0 0

AT PHILADELPHIA.

DETROIT 0 4 1 0 0

PHILADELPHIA 7 0 5 0 0

FOR RACING AND BASEBALL SEE

PAGES 14 AND 15.

JAPAN INSISTS ANTI-ALIEN LAW VIOLATES TREATY

Replying to Bryan's Note, Says It Is Against International Equality of Treatment.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Japan's rejoinder to the United States' reply to her protest against the California anti-alien and law, delivered personally by Ambassador Chinda to Secretary Bryan to-day sets out why the Tokio Government continues to regard the Webb laws as discriminatory against Japanese: in derogation of the equalities of treatment prescribed by international law, and in violation of the treaty of 1911.

Nothing in the nature of an ultimatum is contained in the note. Its general tone is to invite further discussion of the controverted points, and it contains nothing tending to make up a final issue. Secretary Bryan and the Ambassador agreed that no details should be made public.